TRUCE NEGOTIATORS ALLEGE REDS INSISTING ON PHONEY LINE ONLY TO STALL TALKS

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 12—(AP)—Allied truce negotiators in strong words today accused the Communists of insisting on a phoney cease-fire line merely to stall the armistice talks.

After the subcommittee had wrangled for four hours and 15 minutes, an Allied spokesman said they were no closer to an agreement on the thorny buffer zone issue. They will meet again in Panmunjom at 11 a. m. Tuesday (9 p. m. EST Monday)—their 20th session.

Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges, chairman of the two-member U. N. command subcommittee, minced no words in telling the Communist negotiators:

Churchill's Visit To J. S. in January Causes Speculation

Key West Fla., Nov. 12—(AP)—President Truman and Prime Minister Winston Churchill of Great Britain are going to meet in Washington in January.

The meeting was announced at a news conference yesterday by presidential Secretary Joseph Holt.

There was no indication whatsoever that the conference, certain to be delayed until after Mr. Truman has submitted his "State of the Union," budget and economic messages to Congress, will involve the French or the Russians.

French President Auriol has suggested a meeting of President Truman and the British, Russian and French heads of state to help ease international tensions.

Ever since the British election campaign that sent Churchill back into control of the British Government, it has been a generally known fact that Churchill could re-new his old acquaintance with Mr. Truman if returned to power.

"You intend to establish a presumptive demarcation line and demilitarized zone, which will release you of any necessity to settle the remaining items of the (armistice) agenda with speed and equity."

"You want to establish a spurious line and zone which will provide you with the leisure and freedom to continue delaying the conference."

The Reds want to fix a cease-fire line before taking up any other item on the agenda. The U. N. command insists that the line follow the war front at the time all other armistice terms are agreed upon.

Brig. Gen. William Nuckolls, the official U. N. command spokesman, said the Communists hinted "pretty broadly that after a cease-fire line was fixed, the next step would be withdrawal of all troops from the buffer zone."

Both sides have agreed the cease-fire line should follow the (Turn to Page Nine)

Motorist Calmly Admits Killing Wife

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 12—(AP)—A man walked into the police station here this morning, calmly announced he had slain his wife, and told officers her body was in the trunk of his car parked outside. It was.

Police Captain Edgar L. Stearns identified the man as Everett LeRoy Moir, 29-year-old Waterloo, Ia., factory worker, and said Moir blamed domestic troubles for the slaying.

The woman, Mrs. Sarah Mae Moir, 29, apparently had been bludgeoned to death, Stearns said. A blood-stained hammer was found in the car.

Police said Moir's first request after telling of the slaying was that they call Waterloo to see if his two young children were all right. Moir said the children, Dennis John, 7, and Cheryl Diane, 2, had been left with a baby sister and he was "worried about them."

University Student Stages Dramatic Leap

New York, Nov. 12—(AP)—The stage was an 18th story ledge of the Taft Hotel. The actor was a Boston University student. The audience was a homeward bound Broadway theatre crowd. The drama was life—and death.

The student, Alexander E. Brahm, 19, of Worcester, Mass., poised himself on the 18-inch ledge. He casually lit a cigarette.

He had remembered to leave his watch in his fifth-floor hotel room, his suit coat in a washroom. His room key was in his shoe. The 18th floor map had led him to the ledge through a hallway window.

All was ready. There were more shouts. He took another puff on the cigarette then death. His body crashed to the 7th Avenue sidewalk near the Roxy Theatre.

Schools Arrange Many Events For Education Week

Plans for observance of American Education Week in Warren borough and county schools get off to a flying start today and continue throughout the week, with open house observed in all local buildings and special events arranged in rural communities.

The program includes two radio plays, "Education For the Long Pull" and "Our Schools Keep Us Free," produced by the Warren County Branch, Pennsylvania State Education Association, on Tuesday and Thursday at 1:00 p. m. Those who will be participating in the plays are: Mrs. Helena R. Isaman, Mrs. Juanita Johnson, Alan Frank, Francis Johnson, Robert Knapp, Richard Smith, II, and Robert Proper.

Tidoute schools plan to correlate their observance with the library's celebration of Book Week, these two institutions having worked together for several years in commemorating these special weeks.

North Warren school will hold open house Thursday afternoon, so that parents may see their children in a natural classroom situation.

On Monday evening, November 5, the Sugar Grove-Farmington PTA members attended an abbreviated day's schedule of classes and planned for this week is a special high school assembly, a library bulletin board, display table, and a noon-hour movie concerning schools.

Johnson school will observe Education Week this evening, with teachers in their classrooms from 7:30 until 8:00 o'clock to meet parents and acquaint them with their child's work. At 8:00 the regular PTA meeting will be held, with Francis Johnson giving a talk on "Speech Correction—The Sign of Our Times." All parents are cordially invited for both the open house and PTA.

This year for Education Week, South street teachers are inviting parents to come to school at 7:00 o'clock this evening to go through their child's daily schedule. In kindergarten, first and second grades teachers will try to explain the way they teach the different subjects and what children should be learning. In grades three, four, five and six, the parents will attend four 15-minute classes, following their own child's program.

McClintock teachers are hoping for a large turnout of parents when they hold open house from 7:00 until 8:00 p. m. Tuesday. Invitations were sent out Thursday in the form of small blackboards, with white writing on black paper, and two sixth graders, Cynthia Prichard and Clara Proud, have been designated as official hostesses to welcome the visitors. PTA mothers will serve cake and coffee to round out the program.

Plans for other schools will be announced as the Education Week schedule progresses.

PERON WINS SECOND TERM AS PRESIDENT

Buenos Aires, Nov. 12—(AP)—Argentina has returned President Juan D. Peron to another six years of power in a record-breaking election which gave him a thumping majority over his main opposition.

Peron's chief opponents, the Radical party, conceded his overwhelming victory on the basis of government figures and unofficial incomplete returns from yesterday's election.

The pro-government press hailed Peron's victory as a vote of confidence by the people. It said his final majority will be bigger than in his first election in 1946, when he polled 55 per cent.

Radical leaders declared that women, voting for the first time in an Argentine general election, were the main instrument in the Peron victory.

The opposition claimed there had been some irregularities in the vote counting. They said that, according to their own count, at least five and possibly seven of their candidates won congressional seats in the capital, which sends 30 deputies to Congress.

There were no other opposition complaints or irregularities, but Radical leaders reiterated charges that the Peronists defrauded them during the pre-election campaign by not permitting the opposition equal campaigning facilities.

Reports by the interior ministry and the information under-secretary gave no hint of the way the congressional elections were going. They also omitted the number of votes cast for the Communists, Socialists, Conservatives and other minor parties.

A record number of voters—possibly 6,000,000—showed up at the polls, with women outnumbering the men.

TWO TRAFFIC VICTIMS

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12—(AP)—A 70-year-old man and a 10-year-old boy were killed in weekend auto accidents. Patrick John McKown, 70, of Bradock, was hit while walking along Route 30 near Irwin. Richard T. Vereb, was struck by a car while making newspaper route collections.

Rochester Is Hit By Three Serious Fires

Rochester, N. Y., Nov. 12—(AP)—Three fires within 48 hours—one of which was still burning today—hit Rochester over the weekend.

First and worst blaze was at an Eastman Kodak building where hundreds of tons of photographic paper went up in smoke. The damage was estimated at $2,000,000.

The Kodak fire started at 12:37 p. m. Saturday. It still was burning this morning.

Wearry firemen who spent as long as 14 hours battling the blaze were called to a second general alarm last night when a fire broke out in an apartment building.

Later, another general alarm sent firemen to the Milner Hotel in downtown Rochester.

ST. MARY'S TRAGEDY
St. Mary's, Nov. 12—(AP)—Unable to extinguish a flaming sweater which caught fire when she tried to light a gas stove, 71-year-old Mrs. Louis Walker died of burns yesterday. Her husband was treated for burns suffered while trying to put out the blaze.

PRACTITIONER DIES
Pittsburgh, Nov. 12—(AP)—Dr. Roy C. Cooper, 77, former president of Shady-side Hospital and medical practitioner here for 50 years died yesterday. Dr. Cooper was a native of Beaver county.

High School Band Adds Luster to Big Game

The Warren High School band added luster to the Dragons' football victory by demonstrating another of their impressive half-time ceremonies aided for the first time in the school's history by the high school's capella choir.

The band took the field and formed a large "V" for victory while the choir formed a cross in the center of the "V" to signify the observance of Armistice Day. The choir members wore white shirts and blouses contrasting with the deep blue of the band uniforms.

After two selections by the choir, the band then re-formed in to a "J" for Jamestown and finally a "W" for Warren, where the trumpet trio played the Alma Mater. The Jamestown band did not perform at the game.

Eden Calls Upon Russia to Seek Early Solution to the Cold War

Vets' Posts Sponsor Armistice Day Program

The above Times-Mirror picture was taken as brief but impressive services were conducted jointly by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion at 11 a. m. today at Memorial Park, Pennsylvania avenue at Hickory street, with Ralph Akers, V. F. W. commander, and Louis Vizsa, American Legion commander, reading the ritual, assisted by Willis Lundahl, American Legion chaplain, who offered the prayer.

The salute to the dead was given by a firing squad composed of the following members of the two orders: Pete Wolf, George Jerman, Charles Johnson, E. M. Timmons, Bob Schatzle, Jack Barr, Gene Fring, Jim Torrance and John Hagerty. Charles Sontag and Jim Senger were color bearers and the bugler was James Caines.

Commanders Vizsa and Akers placed a memorial wreath at the base of the monument, and the services were concluded as the American flag was lowered by LeRoy Frontera and Homer Fitch from its half mast position and then elevated to top flight. The ceremony was broadcast by Station WNAE with Charles Tranter at the microphone.

Crisp, pleasant weather brought out an unusually large attendance, with an appreciable number of World War I veterans in the crowd together with a number of men in uniform.

PLEA IS MADE FOR END OF KOREAN WAR

Paris, Nov. 12—(AP)—Britain's Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden called on the Russians today to put aside major world issues temporarily and seek a step-by-step solution to the cold war.

"Let us grasp the definite and limited problems, and work for their practical solution," Eden said in a conciliatory speech before the United Nations general assembly.

"That is the real road to peace. That is the way to make a fresh start," he declared.

Eden's speech, his first in the U. S. since the founding conference at San Francisco in 1945, was notable for its mild tone and lack of attacks on the Russians.

He urged all U. N. members, including the Soviet Union—to work from the small issues to the great "with real good will."

Backing up U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson's policy statement last week on every point, Eden cited the British-French-American disarmament proposals as one example of how the east-west disputants could work from the small issues to the large.

Eden appealed to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky to reconsider his scornful rejection of the western proposals. The Russian had submitted, instead, his own disarmament plan calling for a world arms conference.

Eden also urged, as Acheson had before him, that agreement be reached to:

1. End the war in Korea;
2. Reunite Germany through free democratic elections;

President Says U. S. To Work Hard And Actively To Bring About Lasting Peace

Washington, Nov. 12—(AP)—President Truman says the United States, disappointed in the hope that the first Armistice Day would bring lasting peace, is now "determined to work for it, hard and actively, with all our resources."

"We are engaged in a great national effort to build up enough strength and economic power so we and all the peaceful nations can be secure against the threats of new aggression in the world today," the chief executive said.

He spoke in a broadcast yesterday. It was recorded here before he went to Key West, Fla., for a vacation.

Similar expressions were voiced by other officials in Armistice Day observances throughout the nation and abroad yesterday. Still other ceremonies of tribute to the dead of World War I, and of other wars, were planned today, the legal holiday.

But for the United Nations forces fighting in Korea there was no formal observance. "Our policy on this Armistice Day is business as usual," said Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander.

The supreme commander in the Far East, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, broadcast an appeal throughout the U. S. for blood donations. He said the men fighting in Korea "cannot long pause to note either the day or its significance—they are otherwise occupied."

At traditional ceremonies at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery, Secretary of Defense Lovett said "once more we renew our vows to our heroic dead never to give up in the struggle in which they gave their lives."

Gen. George C. Marshall, speaking at Wayne, Pa., said America now has "a position of leadership which demands fortitude, courage, and great wisdom, and which does not permit emotional reactions to dominate our policies."

Wear Yellow If You Are Feeling Blue

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 12—(AP)—Feeling blue, lady? Try slipping into a yellow dress.

A survey of Cornell University's 1,072 co-eds shows that 60 per cent are convinced their moods are affected by the color and style of the clothes they wear.

The survey indicated that a woman might shrug off the doldrums if she wore a yellow dress. Bright red also was listed as a pepper-upper.

PRINCESS AND DUKE PLAN RETURN HOME

St. John's, Newfoundland, Nov. 12—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh said farewell today to North America, taking home what Britain's future queen described as "new strength and inspiration."

Winding up their five-week tour which crossed 15,000 miles in Canada and the United States, Elizabeth in her nationwide radio goodbye last night said Canada "has become a second home in every sense."

Members of Electrical Workers Union Start the Installation of Festive Lights

Thirteen members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Union Locals 174 and B1124 AFL, started over the weekend to install the overhead holiday street lights which were enjoyed by everyone last Christmas season. Included in the group were Jos. G. Duffield, Ray Sampson, George Spangler, John Smosna, Paul Carlson, Clayton Kohler, Edward Schubert, Marvin Sitter, Heath Ferris, Warren Teagle, Donald Palmer, Art Carlson, and M. James Blackmer. These men, as a civic gesture, are making these installations on their own time without charge, the same as they did last year, which makes such an extensive program possible.

This festive street lighting project was started last year under the sponsorship of the Retailers Committee of the Warren Chamber of Commerce. Ben Kinnear, general chairman for the retailers, and W. H. Cannon, sub-chairman for Christmas decorations, have announced that the recent solicitation for more funds from local merchants and other business places to carry on this project has been successful. Therefore, more light strings and large neon stars have been purchased and will be added this year.

Present plans call for the trimming of at least three additional street intersections as well as the placement of three more of them. (Turn to Page Nine)

More Performers Added to the Matinee Performance of Cavalcade of Mystery

Three more performers have been added to the matinee performance of the Cavalcade of Mystery which is being sponsored this Saturday, November 17th by the Warren Phalanx Club for the benefit of its service work. The matinee show is for children and will start at 3:00 in the Womens Club auditorium.

Heading the afternoon show will be Tom Rea of Oil City and Bob Brown from Bradford. Rea is an outstanding magician and president of the Youngstown, Ohio Magic Club which is a chapter of the International Brotherhood of Magicians.

Rea acquired an interest in magic while attending insurance school in 1938. The hobby continued to grow and when he entered the my Transportation Corps in 43 he associated with several in who also were interested in magic.

Bob Vernon will be the youngest of the performers here Saturday. Only 12 years old he has the past three years acquired a professional performance which made him in big demand in the adford area. Appearing on the time show in Titusville several weeks ago, he was put on the eveg show by popular demand.

Warren will furnish four performers for the matinee show. y are Bill Wehner, son of Mr. Mrs. W. L. Wehner, 200 rker road; Harold Ericson, son Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ericson, 14 th Irvine street; and Stuart nresch, son of District Attorney Mrs. M. A. Kornreich, 503 17th avenue. All of these young are attending Warren High ol and have been practicing ic for the past two years.

The matinee show will also include Bob Hart, Warren's well w juggler and magician, and ck Tranter as the magical der of ceremonies. Admission the children will be 35 cents at door.

Shortest Man in the Army Is 4 Feet 11

Denver, Nov. 12—(AP)—A 25-year-old Denver corporal today laid claim to the title of the shortest man in the U. S. Army.

He is Amos A. Barcelona, stationed at the Rocky Mountain arsenal on the outskirts of the city.

Cpl. Barcelona is only four feet, 11 inches tall—an inch less than the minimum requirement for the army.

"I guess I talked my way in," he told a reporter.

Senators Martin and Duff Differ Over Possibilities of Eisenhower Running

Harrisburg, Nov. 12—(AP)—U. S. Senator James H. Duff (R-Pa.) said today "there is going to be plenty of action in Pennsylvania at the proper time" on behalf of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination.

At the same time, Sen. Edward Martin, Pennsylvania's other Republican senator, said he doubted Eisenhower would run because "I don't think he will give up his job in Europe."

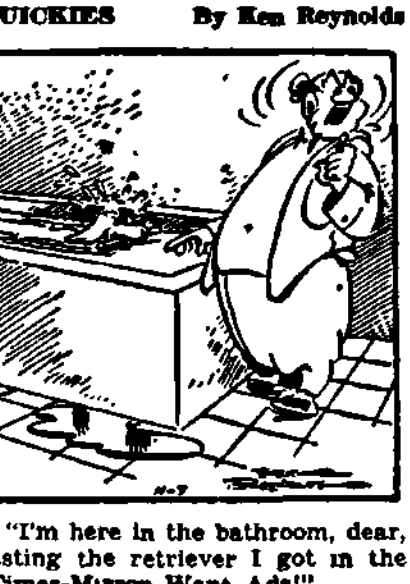

The two senators made the statements to reporters on their arrival here to address the annual convention of the Pennsylvania Council of Republican Women.

In an address prepared for the annual convention Martin declared that the fight against Communism "is only one important phase in the defense of our freedom."

The former governor of Pennsylvania said the current spending of the Truman administration "cannot fail to lead us into financial collapse."

Martin's address set off the tone of a meeting that probably will provide a sounding board for Taft and Eisenhower backers in the 1952 presidential race.

Sen. Robert H. Taft (R-Ohio) an avowed candidate, will be on hand himself to talk on national issues entering the presidential campaign next year.

"I'm here in the bathroom, dear, testing the retriever I got in the Times-Mirror Want Ads!"

Industrialist Will Deliver Talk Before Foremen's Meeting

The Warren Foremen's Club will meet at the YMCA tonight to hear one of the outstanding industrial speakers of the Pittsburgh area, Tom Armstrong, director of plant labor relations of the Westinghouse Electric Corporation. Mr. Armstrong is one of the headline speakers at large industrial conferences and his many return engagements to these conclaves denotes the high calibre of his addresses. The program committee of the local Foremen's Club, after several years efforts, are proud to present him tonight to address the Club on the subject, "Leadership in These Times".

The dinner meeting tonight will be in charge of Carl Jones, president of the Club as toastmaster, and the invocation will be given by Dan. Walton, executive secretary of the club. This being past president's night for this season the past presidents will be greeted by Wade Barre, vice president of the club, and the secretary's report and that of the treasurer will be presented by Don. Anderson and Richard Swanson respectively. Group singing will be led by Chris Pepke, chairman entertainment committee with Lynn Keller at the piano.

A full attendance of the over 100 members of the Club is expected to hear Tom Armstrong's address tonight at the YMCA. The dinner meeting starts at 6:30 sharp, and the program will close with the screening of a colored motion picture showing the steel construction of the United Nations Building in New York City by the U. S. Steel Corporation.

Local Student Is An Alternate Delegate To College Meeting

A Warren student who is a senior at Lycoming College in Williamsport, Kenneth Berdine, has been selected as first alternate to represent Pennsylvania colleges at the 56th annual Congress of American Industry to be held in New York City next month.

Berdine will make the trip should Joseph F. McKinney, of St. Joseph's College in Philadelphia be unable to attend as delegate.

The Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association sponsors the trip to the convention, which will be held December 5-7, one college student from each state having been selected to watch men of American industry exchange ideas and problems.

Berdine's nomination at Lycoming was made by the heads of the business administration and social science divisions, with the statewide selections made by chance-drawings.

The local student is a retail major in business administration, is on the Dean's List, is president of Zeta Delta Kappa Fraternity, and is a candidate for the varsity basketball team. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Berdine, 420 Prospect street, he is also senior representative to the student Government Association, and has been connected with the business department of the Lycoming Courier, a bi-weekly school paper.

Vets' Organizations Hold Appropriate Parties in Observance of Armistice Day

ASSEMBLYMAN ALLEN M. GIBSON of Sheffield, extreme right, spoke on the patriotic obligations of the American Legion at the Legion's Armistice Day dinner, Saturday night. At left is Louis Vizza, commander of Chief Complanter Post, and in the center is Cpl. William LaCarmen, USA, of Youngsville, recently returned from Korea. Cpl. LaCarmen is the Warren county boy whose request for a Pennsylvania state flag, answered by Mr. Gibson, resulted in presentation of a flag for the Court Room and in the flag being displayed in Warren during Pennsylvania Week.

Members of the veterans' organizations in Warren, Dinsmoor-Schwartz Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Chief Complanter Post of the American Legion, held largely-attended social affairs Saturday night, in observance of Armistice Day.

There was a fine attendance of Post and Auxiliary members and guests at the V. F. W. Post Rooms for the delicious tureen dinner and excellent program of entertainment, with the Auxiliary in charge.

The Post Rooms and banquet tables were beautifully decorated in keeping with Armistice Day. The committee served ham, rolls, pumpkin pie and coffee, and a large variety of delicious dishes were brought by the ladies.

Present for the dinner were V. F. W. Comrade and Mrs. Harry Bloss, of Waynesburg, Pa.

Following dinner, Mrs. Lowell McCann, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, gave an address on Armistice Day and told of the combined activities of the Post and Auxiliary, closing with an Armistice Day poem.

Ralph Akers, Post Commander, spoke on Armistice Day and also told of the combined activities of the Post and Auxiliary.

The following Past Commanders of the Post were called upon and spoke appropriately regarding Armistice Day: Homer Fitch, Albert F. Arnold, Leo Schuler and Leroy Fronberg. Prayer was offered by Charles Johnson, Post Chaplain.

A very enjoyable program of musical entertainment was furnished by the "Ridgerunners," a Western type trio from Warren and Scandia. The trio was composed of Bob Alspaugh, Don Merkle and Bill Brann. The selection of polkas, waltzes, boogie-woogie, and hill-billy numbers was highly entertaining.

Community singing was enjoyed with Mrs. Orpha Peck at the piano, and Mrs. Marie Belton gave a reading. The program was closed when all sang "God Bless America" and by prayer offered by Mrs. Martha Schueltz, Chaplain of the Auxiliary.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary who made up the committee were: Mrs. Martha Schueltz, Mrs. Elizabeth English, Mrs. Sena Forsgren, Mrs. Marie Belton, Mrs. Lillian Hubbard, Mrs. Hilda Rohlin, and Mrs. Nellie Hoffman. Post members on the committee were William Keller, Edward Nasman and Richard English.

Following the tureen dinner and entertainment in the Post Rooms, an evening of dancing and a show were enjoyed in the Club rooms.

At the American Legion Home, a capacity crowd attended the Armistice Day festivities, starting with a delectable tureen dinner at 6:30 p. m., served by the American Legion Auxiliary. Tables were set in the parlors of the Home, and the dinner was served buffet style. Patriotic decorations made the tables attractive, lighted with red, white and blue candles and the officers' table was centered with a beautiful array of flowers in the national colors, with the American Legion flags in the background.

Louis Zizza, commander of the Post, expressed appreciation to the Auxiliary and introduced the speaker of the evening, Assemblyman Allen M. Gibson of Sheffield, and a guest of the evening, Cpl. William LaCarmen, USA, of Youngsville, the soldier just home from Korea whose request for a Pennsylvania flag was answered by Mr. Gibson and which resulted in the state flag being brought into the local forefront during Pennsylvania Week. Cpl. LaCarmen, a quiet, gentlemanly youth somewhat dismayed by all the attention and festivity, was given a cordial welcome by the Legion.

"With the advent of another Armistice Day, we pause and bow our heads," said Mr. Gibson. "In humble reverence, we pay tribute to the memory of those gallant men and women who gave up the remaining years of their lives; who sacrificed on the altar of freedom their comfortable homes, their hopes and their ambitions, and for what?

"It is a fair question. We have the right to ask. We are the fortunate ones. We are alive to evaluate the victory these friends, our comrades, paid for. But first let us dwell on the pride we take in the success of American arms.

"You know how your spine tingles to the stirring beat of a military air. We stand a little straighter and our eyes brighten to the sound of marching feet. All the machines of war in their overwhelming thunder and clatter will never match the majestic splendor of one American girl or boy marching off to battle; for that boy or girl is capable of a personal sacrifice no machine or weapon of war can ever make. Death comes only to the living.

"Now we could sing the praises of our heroes, living and dead, without ending and our tribute would be small, our effort unimportant. They left us a task unfinished, a heritage to preserve. The battle for freedom goes on. It is our greatest possession, and yet we sometimes value it not at all.

"I wonder why. Did you vote last Tuesday? And yet we all know at what a great cost the right of suffrage was won. Did you go to church last Sunday? Millions of people, just as warm and life-loving as you and I, died a cold horrible death so that we might have the Freedom of Worship, as we saw it, and as our conscience dictated.

"Did you remember to thank God and our immortal dead when you blasted the government for its waste and general cussedness? That freedom of speech which we enjoy and sometimes abuse, was no gift. It came the hard way. Death, suffering, hardship paid the price that you and I might enjoy it.

"Where did you get the right to move your family to Warren; who said you could work or not, as you choose? That radio program you like so well, your favorite newspaper where the voice of criticism can be heard and read and appreciated for its worth. Yet the freedom to express that point of view was purchased at a price.

"The Truman-MacArthur difference well illustrates to my mind the value of freedom of speech. The fact that Gen. MacArthur could mount the rostrum of the Congress, and in all his splendor, denounce his commander-in-chief before the assembled nation, and remain at liberty, enjoying his personal freedom, proved to us that the freedom of speech still lives in this country. An honest difference of opinion was appreciated by the citizens of the United States, and instead of facing the firing squad, as might have happened in some parts of this world, Gen. MacArthur enjoys the admiration of millions of Americans.

"Those who fought for freedom in 1775, those who died to preserve our Union in 1861, and those who sacrificed on the altar of freedom

Motorists Pay Out Large Sums to Keep Vehicles on Road

One motorist in every four on the road will face a fuel system breakdown this year because of rust and corrosion, according to statistics disclosed by Clyde G. Dick, local representative of Sinclair Refining Company.

In discussing facts revealed by the auto industry's authoritative publication, "Motor Service Magazine," he included other figures on automobile wear. Over $100,000,000 a year is the bill paid by car owners for fuel system repairs brought on by rust and corrosion. The fuel pumps and carburetors replaced each year because of rust and corrosion damage would make 3,200 stacks as high as New York's Empire State Building.

Mr. Dick pointed out that an increasing number of motorists are turning to anti-rust gasoline to help stop such fuel system damage and lengthen car life. Such a gasoline was introduced by the Sinclair Refining Company about two years ago and many car owners, service station operators, and mechanics have checked on its effect in average cars under average driving conditions. They report that Sinclair Gasoline stops rust and corrosion in the fuel system and saves repair expenses in every case.

An exclusive new chemical called "RD-119," developed by Sinclair's Research Laboratories, is blended into both Sinclair's H-C and Ethyl Gasolines. This rust inhibitor coats the inside of a car's fuel system with an invisible protective film that prevents rust and corrosion caused by natural moisture condensation which occurs in any gasoline tank.

By preventing rust and corrosion in the fuel system, better engine response and driving efficiency can also be expected. Chances of stalling, sputtering, or dead engine are lessened because rust particles which would ordinarily cause clogging in the fuel system are kept from forming.

Sinclair Refining Company has selected this newspaper for a series of advertisements pointing out the savings which motorists can make by regular use of Anti-Rust Sinclair Gasoline.

Dinner-Meeting For Trinity Church Men

There will be a dinner meeting of the men of Trinity Memorial church at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday in the parish house. The Rev. Ralph E. Hovencamp of Trinity church, New Castle, will be the speaker.

Before entering the ministry, Mr. Hovencamp was finance counselor and prominent in the Community Chest of Chicago. It has been announced that he will be a candidate for Bishop of the Diocese of Erie and is well known for his most successful rectorates in the Diocese of Central New York and his present parish in New Castle.

It is hoped that all men of the parish will be in attendance at this men's get-together.

WARREN DELEGATES AT EAGLES MEETING

The Kane Aerie of Fraternal Order of Eagles was host to a District Two meeting yesterday, including Warren, Bradford, St. Marys, Ridgway, Kersey and Kane clubs.

Death of Maurice Splain, of Oil City, who was worthy State Secretary of the organization, was announced. Discussion of several topics of business was held, and decision referred to local clubs.

Following the business meeting, a luncheon was served. Next meeting of the district group will be held in St. Marys on December 9, it was announced.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Word is received from State College that Peggy L. Crooks, Corydon, has been awarded a $200 Kroger scholarship at Pennsylvania State College. Dean Grace Henderson, of the School of Home Economics, explains the award is made to a sophomore on the basis of general merit.

cry to 'Make the world safe for democracy' only preserved our freedoms in their day. The heroes of World War II and the sons and daughters in uniform today, such as young Cpl. LaCarmen who is with us tonight, are again, paying the price of freedom.

"Ladies and gentlemen, we are fellow comrades; we must prepare ourselves for the greatest peace or the greatest conflict of all time. In either event, the sharpest sword is the moral fiber of the freedom-loving people of America. Our greatest enemy is the tolerance of a soft and careless attitude toward the custody of this priceless heritage we call freedom.

"Guard it well. Remember the tears shed to achieve it, and view with suspicion all who suggest that you part with any of it. The protection of these rights and functions is the program and moral responsibility of the American Legion. May God help us to remember."

Following dinner, dancing was enjoyed in the lounge with Orrie Beebe at the organ, while amateur and impromptu entertainment added to the enjoyment of a perfect evening

Six Are Arrested By Borough Police For Driving Too Fast

City police were rough on drivers who overstepped the rules yesterday, arresting six for driving too fast for conditions, and one other for reckless driving and failure to stop on signal from a police officer. All will receive summons from Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund.

For the most part, however, the weekend in police circles was purely routine. Three drunks and one panhandler were locked up.

An east side man, also under the influence, wasn't able to navigate properly, and instead of finding his home got into the doorway of a nearby store. The error in destination resulted in a burglary call to police, and the inebriate was steered into the right port.

Saturday afternoon, a lady motorist locked herself out of her car, parked on the Hickory street bridge, and enlisted police aid to get into the vehicle.

Residents of Poplar street reported a strange car parked there for over 24 hours. Investigation showed that the car belonged in Jefferson county. Police are investigating the possibility that it may have been stolen.

Other matters under police investigation are the breaking of light bulbs in the stairway leading to Radio Station WNAE, the breaking of a fence around an east side residence, and a prowler in a car trying to pick up a local girl.

This morning, police found a bicycle without license plate abandoned on Prospect street. The owner can have the wheel by going to police headquarters and identifying his property.

New Members Of Council To Attend Tonight's Meeting

Incoming members of the Borough Council have been invited by William E. Rice, council president, to attend the November meeting of Council at 7:30 tonight and to attend the meeting of Council's finance committee, Tuesday night.

In writing to the seven new members after their election last Tuesday, Robert Kopf, W. Bayer Africa, Glenn Patchen, William Pasquerette, C. A. Rudiger, David C. Levine and Freeman Peterson, Mr. Rice pointed out that while the incumbent Council will draft the budget for next year, it will be up to the new Council to pass on it, and he felt the attendance of the newly-elected members at the two meetings would be valuable.

Leon Laskaris is chairman of the finance committee, composed of Charles Miller and Manley Overturf.

Nice People?

To the Editor:

In the New Bedford (Mass.) Standard Times the other day, I found this tasty morsel:

"DENVER, Sept. 3 (AP)—Most of the right ear of John Nunez, 28, a bartender, was bit off yesterday in a scuffle with a belligerent bar patron and then found later.

"Nunez was attempting to eject the man from the bar. His opponent sank his teeth into the ear and chomped. The man ran and disappeared and the ear also vanished. An hour after the fight, another unidentified man walked up to the proprietor of the tavern and said, 'Here's that ear. I found it outside.'

Which shows what pleasant times they have in saloons and how thoughtful everybody is of everybody else. You see, the bartender, in trying to throw the man out, was thinking only of the good of his customer, and the customer was so honest he spit the ear out instead of chewing it up and swallowing it. Nice people, wouldn't you say?

RAGS

One glaring inconsistency in our American way of thinking is our attitude toward dope and drink. Here our reasoning goes all awry. Here we set up a double standard of treatment of these two evils; the one we condemn and the other we condone. If dope has slain its thousands and more, if dope is an evil that affects a few persons, drink is an evil that affects millions of persons. Yet we condemn the dope peddler to life imprisonment while we put the liquor seller on our list of honor givers to public charities. We go about bemoaning the way young people are being made into dope addicts, while we say nothing about the young people who are being made drink addicts. Again we say, 'Consistency thou art a jewel.' Yes, and a very rare jewel, at that, is a consistent public opinion.

County Native Takes New Hotel Job

Trinity Court Studio, Pittsburgh

CHARLES R. WILSON

Appointment of Charles Reginald Wilson, native of Warren county and well known Pittsburgh hotel man, as general manager of Hotel William Penn, Pittsburgh, was announced today by Eugene C. Eppley, president of Pittsburgh Hotels, Inc., owner of The William Penn.

Mr. Wilson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Wilson, 514 East Main street, Youngsville, and a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Wilson of Bear Lake. He will succeed Thomas F. Troy, who headed the hotel staff during the Statler regime terminating on December 31. Operation of the William Penn will revert to the owner, January 1st, and Mr. Wilson will assume his new duties at that time.

Mr. Wilson is now manager of The Roosevelt Hotel, a position he has held for 13 years. Previously he was sales manager of the William Penn for four years. His first hotel job was business promotion manager of The Schenley.

Born near Bear Lake, Mr. Wilson was graduated from Warren High school and the University of Pittsburgh. In his final year at Pitt he won the George Wharton Pepper award for the outstanding all around student at the University. He remained at the University for two years as assistant dean of men before joining The Schenley staff.

Mr. Wilson is vice president of the Pittsburgh Field Club, a director of the Chamber of Commerce, Civic-Business Council, Better Business Bureau, Convention and Tourist Bureau, and Pennsylvania Hotels Association. He is a former head of the Pittsburgh Hotels Association and of the Sales Executives Club. He is also a member of the Pittsburgh Athletic Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson together with their son and daughter will make their home at The William Penn.

Sheffield Legion Is Observing Day

Sheffield, Nov. 12—Veterans and their families are invited to the annual Armistice Day dinner scheduled for tonight at 6:30 p. m. in the American Legion Home. Guest speaker will be Attorney Harold S. Hampson, Warren.

The dinner will be in the form of a twelve dinner with the meat and dessert courses to be provided.

The event is sponsored jointly by the local American Legion post and auxiliary.

Members of the Sheffield High school football team, cheerleaders and faculty were entertained last Wednesday evening at a delicious turkey dinner given by the high school home economics department under the supervision of the home economics teacher, Miss Ruth Powell.

CO. INSTRUCTORS HOLDING WORKSHOP

Principals and social studies teachers of the entire county gathered in Pleasant township Grange hall for a workshop session and planning of an integral course in social studies throughout the county.

Using the Interim Report 233-B as a guide, all in attendance felt that much progress was made in setting up a uniform program for all schools of the county.

A delicious dinner was served by women of the Pleasant Grange. Chairman of arrangements for the affair was Mrs. Arleen Johnson, sixth grade teacher at Tidoute.

The group plans future meetings at dates to be announced later.

LIFE SAVED

Possible saving of a life can be credited to local state police Saturday when a drunk, who had bedded down for a nap on the curb at the east end of the Glade bridge, was picked up in a patrol car and deposited in the county sneezer where he might be more or less uncomfortable but safe from harm. He could easily have rolled off his improvised bed and into the eastbound traffic lane.

FIELD TRIPS

Assisting the conservation class of Warren High School, officers of both Allegheny National Forest and the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters have furnished guides for several field trips. In this way the class has had opportunities to observe various phases of the work done by these two departments in the local forests. The last of these trips to complete the boys' study of the forests of the United States will be this week under the guidance of Anthony Vogler from the state office, when the class will visit reforested areas. Instructional emphasis will be on the kinds of trees being planted and considered best adapted to this area.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Guests at the Armistice Day dinner at the V. F. W. included Comrade and Mrs. Harry Bloss, Waynesboro, Va.

Pvt. Richard LaCarmen of Fort Lee, Va., was in Warren county for the weekend to visit his brother, Cpl. William LaCarmen, just back from Korea, and his half-brother, Sam Bowers, York Hill, Youngsville. He also visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Josephine Haslett, Jamestown.

The Changing Landscapes

RALPH G. ECKERT

Hello Folks: The first official snow of the season has already arrived, bringing with it some unusually cold weather for this time of year.

Jordan Christensen, Columbus farmer, completed his pond survey and also staked out 2 more diversion terraces with the help of the SCS. Another diversion had previously been constructed to carry off the excess water from the watershed above the field. With the construction of these additional diversions, a more complete job of drainage will be accomplished.

Construction of another Warren County conservation farm pond has been started on Fred Jensen's farm at Columbus. The pond is located near enough to the farm buildings so that it will serve as good fire protection. Fred also plans to stock the pond with fish. This will enable him to take full advantage of the multiple uses of the farm pond.

With the help of the SCS, Levi Huckabone completed his conservation farm plan on his Yankee-bush farm. He plans to build up his pasture so that he will be getting the most production possible from it. Also included in his future plans is the establishment of permanent hay. This will be in accordance with the capabilities of the land as shown by the conservation survey.

The trees and shrubs which were called for in his farm plan, have been received by Clyde Swanson of Akeley. The trees will be planted on a portion of the land which is too steep for farming. The shrubs will be planted as a wildlife border around the edge of the plantation to furnish protection and food for birds and animals and also as a shrub border adjoining the crop field. A border of this type does away with the competition from trees by shading cropland and taking nutrients, needed by the crops, out of the ground.

The conservation farm plan was completed by Charles Scott, Sanford Corners farmer. His plan calls for strip farming to lessen the soil loss by erosion and improving his pasture land to support additional stock.

See you all next week.

RENT CONTROL NEWS RELEASE

Office of the Housing Expediter, Area Rent Office, 707 Commerce Building, Erie, Penn'a

Question: I am advised that there are some types of housing units which were not under rent control for a time, which are now back under rent control. Will you name them for me?

Answer: Between July 1, 1947, and April 1, 1949, any dwelling unit which had been owner occupied or vacant for 24 consecutive months between February 1, 1945, and March 30, 1948, was not under rent control. Also exempt from rent control up to April 1, 1949, were such dwelling units as had been subject to a long term voluntary 15 per cent increase lease signed by both tenant and landlord and filed with the rent office before January 1, 1948, and from which dwelling unit the tenant moved prior to March 30, 1948. Both of the above type of accommodations are back under rent control as a result of Congressional changes in the Housing and Rent Act, beginning April 1, 1949.

Question: What are the main types of housing not under rent control at the present time?

Answer: Newly constructed housing completed on or after February 1, 1947, with a few minor exemptions involving units built under veterans' preference regulations and in which veterans who occupied such units on June 30, 1947, continue in occupancy; housing units created after February 1, 1947, by converting structure from non-housing to housing use; also additional units created between February 1, 1947, and April 1, 1949, by substantial remodeling and conversion of an existing property (units created by such remodeling or conversion on or after April 1, 1949, are not controlled unless a Decontrol Order has been issued by the Area Rent Office); non-housekeeping furnished rooms located in the landlord's private residence where there are no more than two paying guests; tourist homes serving transient guests exclusively on June 30, 1947; hotel accommodations; motor courts which were such on June 30, 1947. Also trailer spaces used exclusively for transient occupancy on April 1, 1949.

Question: The plumbing in a home that I own is very obsolete. My tenant has asked me to put in a cabinet sink and to modernize the kitchen in other respects. I hesitate to make the expenditures involved without knowing how much additional rent I will receive. How can I find out?

Answer: Write a letter to the Rent Office, indicating in detail the improvement you contemplate and the estimated costs. Request the Rent Office to give you a prior opinion as to what rent will be approved if you complete this work. You will be notified in writing as to the rent that will be approved if the work is completed.

Question: My landlord, after making extensive improvements to my flat, has now petitioned the Rent Office for double the present rent. I certainly believe that the landlord is entitled to a substantial increase, but I don't feel I should be required to pay double my present rent. What should I do?

Answer: Within seven days of the time you receive a copy of the Landlord's Petition for an Adjustment of Rent, send a statement of your position to the Rent Office with a copy to your landlord. The mere fact that the landlord has requested that his rent be doubled does not mean that the Rent Office will grant such request unless the Rent Office determines that the landlord is clearly entitled to it under the Rent Regulations.

EDUCATION WEEK STATEMENT ISSUED

Washington, Nov. 12—President Truman, signaling the opening of American Education Week, has called for "more opportunities for better education—for each individual and for all."

"So long as we work for such an end no alien forces can seriously threaten our Democratic way of life," Mr. Truman said in a statement released by the White House Saturday.

SAVE A LIFE!

One of the things a soldier never worries about when he is one the front lines is whether or not, if he is wounded, the Medical Corpsmen will have enough blood and vital blood plasma to take care of his needs. Of course they will have enough blood—it goes without saying. But will they?

Look at it this way. The fighting man is now in Korea. A short while ago it was Iwo Jima, or France or Africa. Now it is Korea and soon it could be in some other distant spot. He is not there because he wants to be. In fact if he is in actual combat he wants to be anywhere but where he is. He is there because there is a need and because he chose or was chosen to go.

He may be killed; or only wounded. You say "only wounded" because it is so much better than death but you can't say it's better than anything else. It's a very frightening thing to a soldier whose chances of escaping it are not too good.

Thinking about all this nothing is more disheartening than the fact that blood donors have to be dragged out of hiding—most of them, that is. Not all of them of course. There is a small, faithful group of Warren citizens who have consistently given their blood and who will continue to do so. There is no greater condemnation of the larger group than to call them just that—the larger group.

There is seldom a lack of donors from among the military personnel, wherever they may be stationed. It is easy for them to appreciate the need in Korea because it could happen to them. How about the rest of us—we civilians? Is it possible we cannot believe in or see the need? Think it over. It's there alright. Men are being wounded every day of the year on a 24 hour, 'round the clock schedule. The war isn't over. It isn't even temporarily suspended.

Yesterday was Armistice Day! Armistice from what? In our homes and churches we may have heard some mention of it—a day that ended a war 33 years ago. But it did not end the need for we civilians, in comparative safety and comfort, to give and DO for those who are fighting for us.

This Wednesday, November 14th, the Blood Bank will again call in Warren. Will you heed the call? It will take less than an hour of your time and we doubt if there are any employers who will not cooperate with you in taking the necessary time off. Stop thinking about it and act! Save a life!

A NEW PROFESSION?

Rudolph Halley, nationally famed as the effective legal inquisitor for the Kefauver Committee during its spring television triumph, has won his first elective job—president of the New York City council.

There can be little doubt that his success stems from that performance. He is a symbol of the bold attack against municipal corruption and crime. Possibly he is the forerunner of a new type slated for big things—a professional honest man making a career of integrity in an age when such a commodity is beginning to come high.

THEY DON'T SCARE

A few weeks back Russia sent a sharp note to Norway, warning its northern neighbor against consorting too closely with the "war-mongering" West. The Norwegians, a brave people, told the Russians in effect to go hang.

Now they've tried the same game with the Turks. Their luck will be no better, for the Turks are as tough as they come. Soon now the Russians may learn that the days of the "big bluff" are over. The free world knows the character of its enemy.

The series between Warren and Jamestown High School football teams stands 25 to 21 in favor of Warren, with one tie, but Friday night's victory was the sweetest of them all.

About time to give some thought about the menu for Thanksgiving!

Pianos are not considered strictly furniture, but in a lot of the homes next door they should be used as such.

It's unfortunate that so many cottages that are covered with ivy are also plastered with mortgages.

Here And There

Thirty-three years ago yesterday, November 11, 1918, Warren held what was referred to in the Evening Times of the following day as "Warren's First Big Victory Celebration." Scheduled to move at seven o'clock, the article states "to the credit of those in charge of the pageant, it must be said that it started 'on the dot.'"

Continuing it says: As early as six o'clock the crowd began to gather, although the streets swarmed throughout the day with citizens and outsiders, who were so jubilant over receipt of the good news that they could not confine themselves to their homes, let alone do any work. The crowd, as large as any that ever joined in a like event, was orderly and as a consequence only one accident of any importance occurred. Old John Barleycorn was present, in many instances, unmasked, but since there were no outward disturbances of any magnitude, there were no arrests in the crowd.

The parade equalled any the borough has ever witnessed. It was an imposing one, and every participant was filled with enthusiasm and good cheer. The different organizations, floats, etc., in the manner in which they passed The Times office were as follows: First as a contingent bearing the flag of Company I, that was not taken to camp, when the command left for Georgia. The A. F. of M. band; Company M, Reserve militia; 60 Red Cross nurses; float loaded with clowns; G. A. R. in cars; Four Minute speakers; Knights Templar in uniform; clowns carrying banner, "Battered for Today, Pitchers Foch, Cather, Pershing, Marconi Soc., 48 in line; I. O. O. F., 50 in line, with banner reading "We don't want the bacon, we only want a piece of the Rhine"; Braff Board; Knights of Columbus, 27 in line; Elks, 25 in line; Ruble band; clowns, 74 in this division, carrying banner "We Kicked the L. Out of Wilhelm"; P. R. R. freight house delegation; Dana Lodge, 25 in line; there were 57 autos in the line counting the floats, which included the following: One bearing dummy representing the Kaiser nailed to a cross; Warren Wholesale; Bell Telephone float carrying ruble band; another loaded with barrels and a bunch of boys who advertised "Peace Stones for Sale Cheap"; Walker Ice Cream Company, with large likeness of Uncle Sam; Y. W. C. A. float; Crescent Floral Garden representing dove of peace; one of Foley's big wagons loaded with people; The Pisco Company; A "hearse" bearing all that remains of Kaiser Bill; bringing up in the rear was a clown astride a white donkey.

Armistice Echoes: There are many who participated in the Armistice celebration 33 years ago who will recall that the borough and nation were in the throes of a severe influenza epidemic which claimed the lives of many citizens. Special articles were printed describing celebrations in rural communities such as Sheffield, Clarendon, Youngsville, Tidoute, etc. An item tells of the first noon-day luncheon meeting of the United War Work Campaigners held at the Carver Hotel when 195 pledges were reported for a total of $16,220.50. The people of Warren went wild with excitement when the giant whistle at the Warren Light and Power plant, by pre-arrangement, was sounded at three o'clock on the morning of the 11th, to signify the news that the Armistice had been signed. Within seven minutes after the news was received in Warren The Evening Times was on the streets with an extra, the first of which was purchased by Richard Schumacher (Sr.), and others who grabbed early issues were Dr. I. Fulverman, Gilbert Johnson, Harry Wolfe and Ivan Jury, and most of these gentlemen acted as newsboys and the entire proceeds of The Times extras was turned over to the Red Cross. Col. F. E. Windsor, veteran military man, was marshal of the parade. Every store and factory in town closed at noon on November 11th, with very few employees working during the morning hours. Every householder was urged to light up homes and throw back curtains during the evening celebration. Fuel Administrator Schimmelfeng lifted the ban on all lights for the celebration. Burgess Gregory made a tour of the city during the day armed with a huge megaphone to advertise to the people that the big celebration was being arranged; previously he had issued a proclamation designating November 11th as a holiday for Warren. Word was received from Washington that there would be no more draft calls. The Pennsylvania Railroad announced that guards that had been placed at all bridges as a precautionary measure during the war had been dismissed. The Times in the November 12th issue noted that only 27 cases of influenza had been reported to the Board of Health the previous 24 hours.

Land Reform May Help Solve Italian Domestic Problem

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

ROME—(NEA)—Most controversial subject in Italy even above rearmament is land reform. The man in charge of the program is Prof. Mario Bandini of the Italian Ministry of Agriculture. He has been in the United States and is familiar with what America has done on soil conservation and reclamation.

There are some things that Italian farmers can teach Americans about land use, however. There are many points about the Italian land reform program which have not been appreciated in the United States, either. It has not been a ruthless, socialistic seizure of the land just for the sake of giving it to peasants. Under carefully worked out and exact tables in the 1950 land reform law, the high-production land already under intense cultivation like that mentioned above is made less subject to redistribution.

As an example, land which is producing an income of 1000 lira per hectare, pre-war (roughly $1.25 net for two and a half acres), may not be expropriated at all. Land producing 900 lira per hectare may be expropriated 25 per cent. Land producing only 300 lira per hectare may be expropriated 95 per cent. This is to break up the big estates of idle land and put it in use.

FINANCING for the purchase of expropriated land is partially by bond issue, partially by a $50 million, ten-year appropriation by the Italian government, partially by a $10 million World Bank loan for Southern Italy's development.

Each area is administered by a separate authority. Its work is divided into three phases. First is to improve all the land, so that the new owners won't be moved into unproductive areas. This includes building roads, housing, water, livestock and machinery acquisition.

Second is subdivision of the land. Finally comes organization of the small farmers into cooperatives. To date, the land has been one-third expropriated, and this phase is to be completed by next summer. Subdivision must be completed within three years. Each farmer will get from five to 20 hectares—12½ to 50 acres—the average being about 17½ acres. For this land the peasant is given a 30-year, 3½ per cent loan.

He pays for his land a minimum of $40 an acre, a maximum of $100—depending on quality—plus improvements, and with an incentive subsidy. If the improvements cost $300 an acre, the government pays 40 per cent, or $120, leaving $180 to be paid by the peasant. If the original cost of the land was $100 an acre, the purchaser's cost is thus $280 of a total $400.

EVERY 250-acre tract is to be organized into a cooperative. One farmer is made head of the cooperative and he schedules use of tractor, distribution of water in irrigated districts. For every 1500 acres, the government has bought two heavy and two light tractors. Under this system of land reform, Prof. Bandini estimates that 100,000 new farms can be developed in Italy in the next three years. The benefits will be double. First will be an increase in food production. Italy now produces about 85 per cent of its own food. Over a period of years, with further land development, it might be made self-sustaining, with some shift in crops.

The second benefit is relief for Italy's excess population. With two million now unemployed, another two million partially employed, and insufficient emigration to relieve the surplus population, there is no other escape than to get more people back on the land.

Italy's population is increasing by 400,000 every year, so the land reform program is only a partial solution. It does offer an interesting laboratory for all other countries in the Mediterranean and Middle East where land reform is the number one domestic problem.

Monday Cleanup: Guess that victory of Warren over Jamestown Saturday evening proves among other things, that when our boys meet the New York stars on the same semester level, we have more than an even chance. It was 21 years ago last Saturday, November 10, that Sheriff L. E. (Larry) Linder rode into town on his motorcycle as a member of the Highway Patrol, to take over a local assignment when the barracks were located upstairs over what is now the Village Kitchen 420 Pennsylvania avenue west, when Corp. Gling was his superior officer, and it wasn't long afterwards before we were out with

MRS. RAYMOND LAVERNE JOHNSON

Audrey Kathryn Cramer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Cramer, 203 East Fifth avenue, became the bride of Raymond Laverne Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmer Johnson, 518 Stowe street, Jamestown, N. Y., in a pretty ceremony performed at 3:00 p. m. Saturday in First Methodist church.

Dr. Arthur Colley performed the rites against a background of palms and white chrysanthemums. Traditional bridal airs were played by Mrs. George Williamson, Pittsburgh, and Robert Dietrich, tenor, sang "If I Could Tell You" by Firestone and "Ich Liebe Dich" by Grieg.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned of white slipper satin and imported lace. The deep lace yoke was topped by a round collar and dainty ruffles extended over the shoulder and into the waistline. The gown had long sleeves, pointed at the wrists, and a full skirt with court train. Her fingertip veil fell from a matching Juliet cap of lace trimmed with satin bands, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white mums.

As maid of honor, Eleanor Smith wore a long sleeved, full skirted gown of mauve-rose tulle, with matching hat, and carried a cascade bouquet of chrysanthemums in the same shade.

Robert Johnson, Kenmore, N. Y., was best man for his brother and ushers were Charles Shortt, Erie, and Harry Sarvis, Sugar Grove.

The bride's mother chose a plum crepe dress, with matching accessories and corsage of white mums, while Mrs. Johnson wore blue accessories and white mums with a blue ensemble.

A reception for 175 guests followed in the church parlors, where white mums and candles enhanced the four-tier wedding cake served by Mrs. Fred Wendelboe. Pouring were the bride's sister, Mrs. H. B. Fernald, Easton, and the bridegroom's sister, Lillian Johnson, Jamestown. Aides were Mrs. Harry Sarvis, Mrs. Charles Shortt, Isabel Heeter and Harriet Land.

For her going away outfit, the bride wore a navy blue and white checked suit, with navy accessories and a white orchid. Following an eastern wedding trip the couple will return November 19 to be at home at 1928 East 7th avenue, Erie.

Mrs. Johnson is a graduate of Warren High School and Warren Business College, and has been employed by the Florida Company. Mr. Johnson, alumnus of Jamestown High School, is employed by General Electric Company in Erie.

Pre nuptial affairs were given by Eleanor Smith, Mrs. Leon Laskaris, Mrs. Charles A. Johnson, Florida Company Girls, Mrs. Fred Wendelboe, Mrs. Louis Gaghan, Mrs. Richard Hill, Ruth Johnson, Mrs. Lee Griffin, and Mrs. Stuart Aberg, all of Warren; Mrs. Harry Sarvis, Sugar Grove; Mrs. Harold Arthur, Akeley; Mrs. C. W. Swanson, Frewsburg; Mrs. Hjalmer Johnson and Miss Lillian Johnson, Jamestown, N. Y.; Isabel Heeter, Sheffield; Mrs. C. R. Hooven, Youngville, and Mrs. Willard Munson, Irvine.

Out of town guests included, Mr. and Mrs. Hjalmer Johnson, Lillian Johnson, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fernald and children, Easton; Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Hooven, Youngville; Mr. and Mrs. Norris Hooven, Corry; Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Fisher, Ingomar, Pa.; J. H. Fisher, Tampa, Florida; Mr. and Mrs. George Williamson, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Fred Schuler, Altoona; Doctor and Mrs. Vishnia, Fredonia, N. Y.; Frank Mellors, Sharon; Mary Church, Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Pierce, Memphis, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Berry, Cleveland; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee, Buffalo; Roy Kridler, Kane; Mr. and Mrs. John Lindell, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Johnson, Mrs. Clinton Strand, Mr. and Mrs. Claus Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Ahlbin, Vivian Johnson, Jamestown; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson, Kenmore; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Johnson, West Chester; Mr. and Mrs. Homer Andrews, Mrs. Willis Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shortt, Mrs. Jennie Swenson and daughter, Marron, Mr. and Mrs. Linquist and the Rev. and Mrs. Stuart Perrin, Erie.

Fine Talk-Pictures For YWCA Service

Those who attended the World Fellowship service at the YW Sunday afternoon were presented with a highly interesting program. Dan Holmes of Jamestown, a local Pennsylvania employee, gave an account and showed colored slides of his three months' visit in Yugoslavia this past summer under the Youth Ambassador plan.

The pictures illustrated the poor living conditions of the country and the sincere gratitude the people express for the help from America, which in turn illustrates the purpose of World Fellowship.

Devotions were led by Ralph Sires followed by two lovely musical renditions by Helen Olson, cello; Ruth Morrison, violin; and Lois Hulings at the piano. To end the program, Jack Haight of Youngville, favored the group with two selections and was accompanied by Elsa Nelson, also of Youngville.

Mrs. Fred Plummer was in charge of the program.

R. C. PLANS CLASS IN HOME NURSING

Any persons interested in enrolling for a Red Cross class of instruction in home nursing are asked to call the chapter headquarters, 2926, as soon as possible.

The course is being organized at the request of the Warren County Civil Defense Council and it is hoped to get classes under way by the end of this week.

Class will be conducted evenings, two hours nightly, two nights each week, so that only three weeks will be required for completion of the stipulated instruction.

Mrs. Alva Johansen, registered nurse and an able instructor, will be in charge of the class.

County Council Of Republican Women Honored at Capital

The Warren County Council of Republican Women is well represented at the 29th annual convention of the State Council which opened at Harrisburg today, when Mrs. George C. Sarvis, president of the local organization, is being honored with a trip to the convention city with transportation and hotel expenses paid. She is also to be presented a medal as the president of a council making a numerical increase of 100 or more during the year. She will also receive a badge of merit in recognition of the fact that the rolls of the local organization were increased from 449 to 1,339.

Accompanying Mrs. Sarvis is Mrs. Ralph Sires, who received a $25 gift certificate redeemable in merchandise at a Harrisburg store during the convention, for making the greatest numerical increase over last year's membership. Other in attendance from Warren are: Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, chaplain; and Miss Sunny Lucia, treasurer.

The convention opened this morning at 8:30 o'clock in the Forum of the State Education Building. Among the speakers to be heard by the Council are Senator James Duff, Senator Edward Martin, M. Harvey Taylor, Weldon E. Keyburn, State Treasurer Charles Barber, Secretary of the Department of Public Assistance Eleanor Evans, Secretary of the Department of Welfare William Brown, Secretary of Internal Affairs William Livengood.

The women are to be guests of Governor and Mrs. John S. Fine at a tea at the executive mansion Tuesday evening. Senator Robert Taft will be the principal speaker at the 29th annual convention banquet to be held Tuesday evening with Mrs. Helen Schlusoff, of Erie, president of the State Council, presiding.

The Indiana University Library's Department of Special Collections and Rare Books houses some 23,000 books and pamphlets and 170,000 manuscripts.

you can try to guess which defender has the queen of hearts. Even if you guess that wrong, you will still make your contract if the diamond finesse succeeds. You might improve your chances somewhat by ruffing out the jack of clubs and then taking the king of hearts followed by a finesse of the heart jack. If that finesse happened to lose to a doubleton queen of hearts, West would be end-played. He would have to return a club or a diamond, giving you the slam. The best play, in my opinion, is to lead the jack of clubs at the third trick and let West win the trick. Just discard a low heart from dummy as West takes his queen of clubs. What can West return? A diamond gives you a free finesse, after which you can ruff two hearts in the dummy. A club lets dummy ruff while you discard the queen of diamonds. West can give you trouble only if he returns a heart. But then, also, you are home if the queen of hearts appears on the first, second, or third round of that suit. If it does, you will have four heart tricks and discard both losing diamonds from the dummy. Even if West returns a heart and you are held to three heart tricks, you are still in position to take a diamond finesse as your final shot. One play is about as good as another if West happens to return a heart. The reason I like this way of playing the hand is that there is a very fine chance that West will have a brainstorm and return a club or a diamond. When in doubt, always give the opponents a chance to make a mistake.

Five Are Injured In Goal Post Battle

Pottsville, Nov. 12.—(P)—A four-way investigation was underway today into the beating of five members of the Pottsville High School band following the Hamilton-Pottsville football game at Hamilton Friday night.

Two of the boys, Warren Haywood, 17, and Jack Strobecker, 18, are still in Pottsville Hospital. Strobecker has a brain concussion and nose fracture; Haywood a concussion.

The five band members were hurt in a fracas around the goal posts after Pottsville won 24-6 to remain unbeaten in the Eastern Football Conference. The win also guaranteed Pottsville the Keystone conference championship.

About 4,000 spectators witnessed the goal post battle.

V.F.W. WARNING BACK IN 1926 IS RECALLED

Omaha, Nov. 12.—(P)—Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.), former national commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said if the warnings of veterans a quarter of a century ago had been heeded, there would have been no World War Two.

Addressing a ten state regional VFW conference over the weekend, Van Zandt told his audience the VFW called for universal military training and steps to curb communism at its national conference at El Paso, Texas, in 1926.

"But nobody listened to us," Van Zandt added. "They ridiculed us, instead, and called us flag wavers and super-patriots."

The conference was held to give state and district officers a briefing on general VFW policies and programs.

The lights will be turned on Friday afternoon, November 23rd, the day after Thanksgiving with proper ceremony providing the weather permits, and will be lighted up every evening from then on until after New Years. They surely add much to the holiday appearance of the community.

The turning on of these holiday street lights will officially open Warren's 1951 Christmas shopping season.

The annual "Special Christmas Shopping Edition" of the Times-Mirror will be issued on November 21st, the day before Thanksgiving, and all advertisers are requested to get their copy for this special edition in to the Times-Mirror office by Wednesday of this week to make sure of inclusion.

some leaving directly from Philadelphia.

Some 2,000 men arrived in six trainloads yesterday from their training base at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

They boarded the transport, Gen. Butler, at the Philadelphia naval base and were assigned quarters for the overseas journey. Units in this group were the division band, medical detachment, 28th division artillery; headquarters, 28th Division artillery; 108th field artillery battalion; and the 103rd engineers combat battalion.

Last night the men had a chance to say goodbye to relatives and friends. They were guests of honor at a junior chamber of commerce party in the 11th infantry armory.

Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, 28th commander, and his staff flew in for the party from Camp Atterbury.

The only point unsettled is the matter of timing—should the cease-fire line be set first, as the Communists propose, or established after an armistice is reached?

Smokey Says:

Many Flowers Grow Well From Seed Sown in Fall

A surprising number of both annual and perennial flowers can be sown in the fall, and when this is done plants for next spring's garden will be produced earlier than by any other method of seed sowing, except in a greenhouse or hot-bed.

The safest way for an amateur to sow either hardy annuals, or perennials, is in a seed box, or flat. It is the most convenient way, also. You can easily prepare a porous soil, mixing one-third peat moss, one-third sharp sand, and one-third of your best top soil. Put a half-inch layer of sifted sphagnum moss on top, and sow seeds in this, then cover lightly with sifted sphagnum moss.

Cosmos.

No. 1 candidate for fall sowing, is the annual larkspur. Shirley poppies, calliopsis, candy-tuft, cosmos, the fragrant nicotiana, and all colors of bachelor buttons are as hardy as cosmos.

When bulbs are planted along in beds or borders, hardy annuals may be sown in the same place this fall, to blossom after the bulbs have flowered and their foliage has disappeared. Rows of hardy annuals suitable for cut flowers may be sown in the vegetable plot, after it has been spaded this fall.

In sections where a brief spring cuts short the flowering season of sweet peas, earlier flowers and a longer season can be obtained by fall sowing, taking precautions as suggested against decay in damp soil. By covering the ground with a light mulch of leaves, straw or similar substance, after it has frozen, winter thaws may be prevented, which might otherwise cause injury.

Other annuals which are successfully fall sown include snapdragons, cynoglossum, hardy pink, California poppy, nigella and petunia.

MENU SUGGESTIONS

NEA Food and Markets Editor

PEANUT butter is a delicious sandwich spread just as it comes from the jar. It can also be the basis of many unusually good fillings. Try it in combination with raisins, bacon, grated carrots, honey, cheese, pickles and deviled ham.

Next time the youngsters want to fix themselves a special snack let them try their hand at these spreads. Peanut butter is packed with B vitamins and also supplies iron, phosphorus and calcium.

Peanut Butter Meat Sandwiches (Makes 4 Sandwiches)

One-quarter cup chunk-style peanut butter, 1 2 1/2-ounce can deviled ham, 1/4 cup sweet pickle relish, 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 8 slices whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine.

In a small bowl, blend peanut butter and deviled ham. Add pickle relish and mayonnaise; mix thoroughly. Spread on 4 slices of buttered bread; top with remaining 4 slices.

Peanut Butter Carnival Sandwiches (Makes 4 Sandwiches)

One-half cup creamy peanut butter, 1/4 cup chopped celery leaves, 1/2 cup grated carrots, 3 tablespoons of mayonnaise, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 8 slices white or whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine.

Combine ingredients: Mix well. Spread mixture on slices of buttered bread; top with remaining 4 slices.

Peanut Butter Bacon Sandwiches (Makes 2 sandwiches)

Three slices bacon, 4 slices white bread, butter or fortified margarine, 1/4 cup chunk-style peanut butter.

In a skillet fry bacon slowly until crisp. Drain on paper towel. Spread bread with butter, then with peanut butter. On two slices, sprinkle bits of crumbled bacon; turn remaining slices over on these. Cut in halves to serve.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Orange juice, ready-to-eat cereal, French toast, syrup or honey, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Peanut butter carnival sandwiches, shredded beet and cabbage salad, oatmeal cookies, tea, milk.

Warren Ends Season With Victory Over Jamestown

WELL-TRAINED HARD-PLAYING TEAM DEFEATS OLD FOE, 6-0

A taut, spirited Warren High Dragon eleven drove 65 yards to pay dirt from the opening kickoff for a decisive 6-0 victory over the Jamestown Red Raiders in the area grid classic of the year at Jamestown Municipal Stadium Saturday night.

Fans jammed bleacher seats and lined the field to watch Coach J. B. Leidig's Blue and White gridders snap the Jamestowners' six-game victory skid and put a victorious initiation to the renewal of the famous Warren-Jamestown rivalry.

It also drew the curtain on the Dragon's 1951 schedule with a 500 percent average.

The type of ball playing demonstrated by the Warren High team branded them among the finest ever turned out by veteran mentor Leidig.

Warren outplayed Coach Colburn's Green and Red footballers most of the game and thrilled fans with both their outstanding defensive and offensive tactics. Early scoring gave the Blue and White even more of that determined fighting spirit that held Jamestown scoreless despite its many methods to score.

A great deal of credit goes to the Dragon forward wall. Each man played a 48-minute game with the exception of Center Chuck Conway, who was relieved occasionally at the back-up post by Dick Walch. Veteran Ben Pastrick's and Ed Johnson's stubbornness proved a stumbling block numerous times for the Red Raiders in their attempts to break the left flank of the Dragon line.

Doing a creditable job at left end was Dave Berdine, along with Sam Pascuzzi, Sam Gerardi and Dick Hegerty on the opposite side. Toby Shea, who scored the lone TD of the game, played an all-around game, sharing honors with backs Dean Vesling and Ed Frontera in Warren's ground attack. The only other Leidigmen to see action were Bud Terry, George Sealise, Clark Wright, Lance Mohney and Leroy Salerno.

Jamestown's standout was 180-pound fullback Joe Pollino, whose consistent off guard drives were the only thing that could inflict any damage upon the locals.

In the air, the Dragons were idle, not attempting one pass while the Raiders completed six in 14 tries for a total gain of 47 yards. Warren's charges on the ground however netted them a total of 232 to 215. Jamestown holding a 12-9 edge in the first down column.

First Quarter
Rog Bartoldson's kickoff loomed to the Warren 15-yard stripe when it was picked off by Shea and returned to the 35. From here the Leidigmen set up their key march of the game, getting the payoff 10 plays later.

Vesling took a handoff and tipped around right end for nine yards on the first play going to the 44, and Shea blasted his way through the Jamestown right tackle headed for the sidelines, and reached the opponents' 21 yard mark before stopped.

The 35 yard gain gave the Warriors a first time and after a six-yard push by Frontera and gains of three and two yards by Shea the Dragons had moved the sticks again to the 10.

Wayne Bourque Jamestown end, nailed Vesling for no gain on another end run but Shea faked a handoff on the next play and hit left tackle for five yards. The pigskin resting five yards from the end zone, Shea lugged again to the two-foot mark. A penalty against Jamestown cut the distance in two and Shea plunged for the third down, fighting his way over the goal.

Vesling's try for the extra point failed, being knocked down short of the line.

The Culminen picked up three yards on as many plays and quarterback Don DiTonto elected to punt. Then the big scare came when the Warren safety man fumbled the ball when he was hit hard and Bourque pilled on it to give Jamestown possession on the Warren 25.

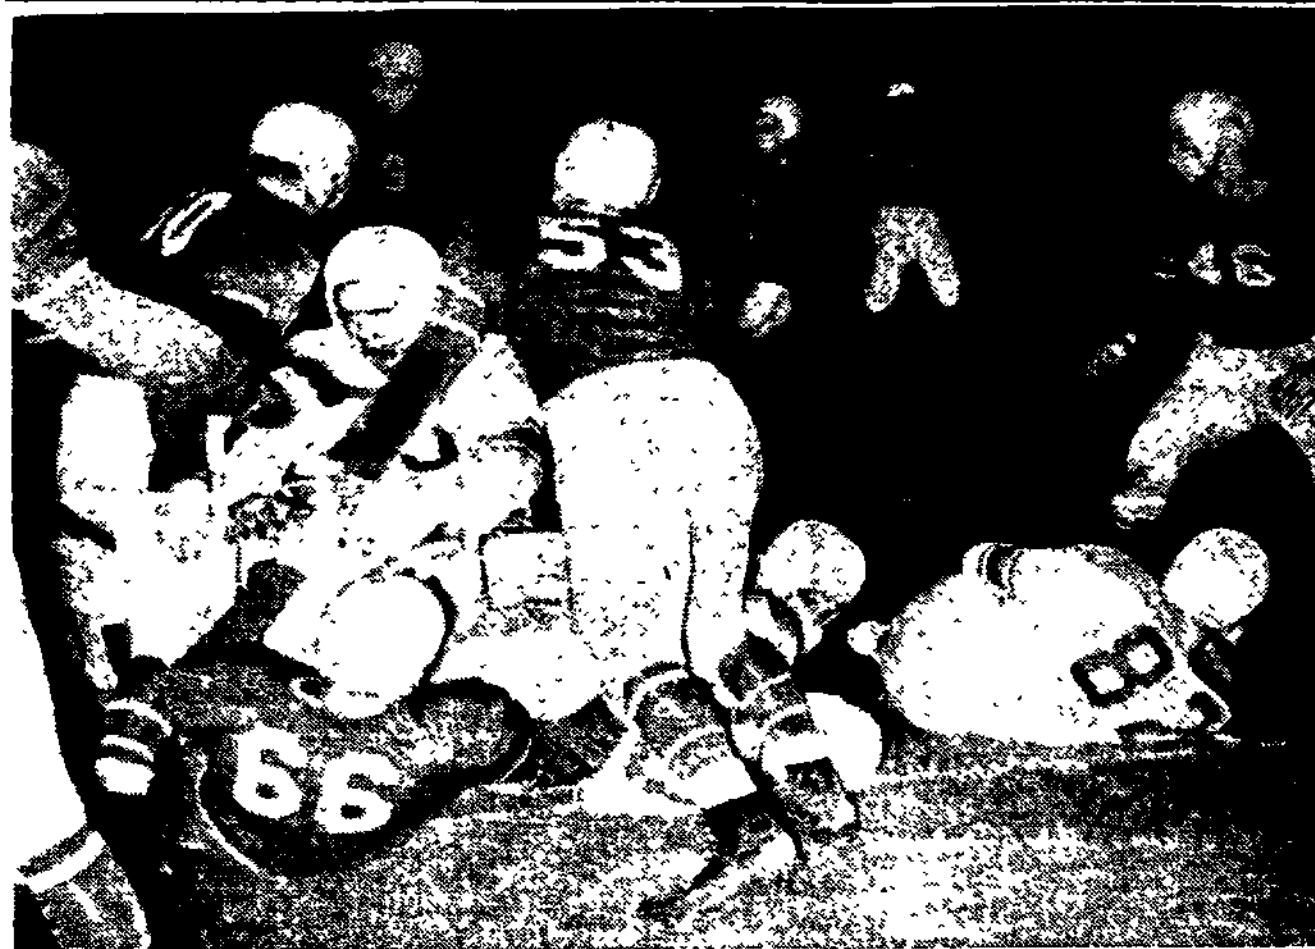

Fran Mistretta Raider star against Olean, picked up four yards on a reverse and Sam Melice swept wide around left end for three yards going to the Warren 18. The DiTonto-Mistretta passing combination ticked, but for only one yard gain, and on the next play the persistent Dragons stopped Pollino short of the first and ended the threat.

After two downs Shea and Vesling had carried to the 20, but a 15 yard penalty for illegal use of the hands placed the Dragons on their five. Pastrick then knotted the team out of danger with a beautiful 48-yard kick.

Second Quarter
Jamestown was much more aggressive in the second period, making four to two first downs over Warren and outlashed the locals 52 to 41. There were no real threats by either team.

A 17-yard excursion by Mistretta, a 19-yard jaunt by Melice and a 27-yard aerial from DiTonto to the former highlighted the action, but the efforts were too scattered to do any harm.

Third Quarter
Leidig and his boys threw another scare into the game in the last minutes of third stanza when Pastrick blocked DiTonto's punt, giving Warren possession on the 45 and Red 47-yard stripe. Two plays pushed the ball to the

Bloomsburg Teachers Are Title Winners

Harrisburg, Nov. 12.—P—Bloomsburg's unbeaten Huskies have clinched the first football title of the new 14-team Pennsylvania State Teachers College Conference according to the official ratings.

With still one game remaining with Indiana, no one can catch the big Huskies. They wrapped up the title chase Saturday by defeating West Chester at Berwick, 16-7, although they had to dust off the old Statue of Liberty play to do it.

In other weekend games, Mansfield won its first by downing winless Lock Haven, 27-14, Shippensburg upset Indiana, 9-0; Kutztown overwhelmed Milesville, 33-13, while Clarion brushed past Shippen Rock, 19-14.

Grand and Glorious Victory!

You all know how Jake Leidig is. He doesn't want one word of praise for himself. We promised him again, as we have so many times in years gone by, to "leave him out of it," so there you are! But how are you going to write an adequate bit of praise for the Warren football squad and leave Jake out of it?

It just seemed as though Warren in its entirety took on a sort of new glow when the victory was won. You cannot say the game was won by the weaker team, but it is true the game was won by an under-rated team. Under-rated not only in Jamestown, as the 6-0 score would indicate, but rather pitifully under-rated at home.

The game was won by one of the finest groups of boys to play for Warren in any year. Not only good football players, but sincere, true, hard-working youngsters who were sure of themselves throughout the season. A series of defeats did not put them back on their haunches, they simply worked all the harder. They observed training rules, they kept themselves fit, and they looked forward to defeating Jamestown all season.

In private homes and public places, Warren listened to the game. A pall of dread settled over everyone when the touchdown was made and extra point missed. There it stood, 6-0, with the awful possibility of an ultimate 7-6 decision staring everyone in the face. The same feeling prevailed in the stands, but not the Warren sideline. The spirited Warren lightweights had no intention of letting victory slip from their grasp. Just keep Jamestown from scoring, and everything will be all right. Everything was all right, the Warren players were right, and at the end of the game the score was very, very right.

The last two minutes seemed an eternity. The American Legion Home was just one example of how things stood in Warren during those hour-long minutes. A large crowd had attended the Armistice Day dinner, and the game was coming in well. The 6-0 score stood intact, then the announcer said "Two minutes to play." You could have heard a pin drop! Silence, silence, silence, with time dragging on. And then it was over! Midnight of New Year's Eve was put to shame! All over town, people grabbed telephones just to call someone, anyone, grandmother, baby sister, or Uncle Ned in Punxsutawney! Just to give some one the grand and glorious news!

Warren High school's victory over Jamestown was like a shot in the arm to all Warren. In one restaurant, two men shook hands who hadn't spoken to each other in three solid years!

The young gentlemen who defeated Jamestown for all of us deserve the thanks of the entire community. Their coaches believe this year's squad was made up of unusually fine boys, not just from a standpoint of athletic ability, and these same coaches believe the boys really deserve their victory. No fan who saw the game can truthfully say that Warren did not outplay Jamestown.

And there is one very personal touch which we refuse to overlook without mention. We pray when we want something very much, and when we deserve what we ask, our prayers are granted. Warren's 1951 squad is prayerful, reverently so. All the more power to you, boys; your achievement will be talked about for years to come.

Through The Wind Tunnel

(By The Staff, Distaff and Datstaff)

If any Warren High student stayed home from school today, it was because he was flat on his back in a sickbed! The triumph of Saturday night will be hashed and re-hashed for months to come. Warren has taken on a new stature, even unto itself!

The 6-0 victory over Jamestown has done more to promote a feeling of local pride than any other achievement could accomplish. Warren is on the map in very large type.

Art Anderson, former Warren resident who has lived in Jamestown 17 years, was in the Warren stands and rooting for a Blue and White win.

No personal contact was made with Bob Linquist, who moved there from Warren 20 years ago, but imagine how he must have felt. Himself the Warren captain in 1925, his son playing on the 1951 Jamestown team!

Some sort of loyalty medal should be made for Keith Vesling after playing with Penn State the entire game against Syracuse, he dashed to the dressing room, disrobing on the way, jumped into his street clothes, and not even waiting for a glass of milk, started the long trip from State College to Jamestown, arriving in time to see the second half, with brother Dean on the Warren team!

Dave Leidig and Mrs. Dave, planning the trip for weeks, came down from Sheffield, Air Base. And are glad they did!

We're mighty glad Warren won, but what a day it would have been for a good old-fashioned afternoon game instead of under the lights.

Our assemblyman, Allen Gibson, may be from Sheffield, but Mrs. Gibson and Allen were both rooting for Warren.

Cyrus Siegfried is another Warren booster who was overjoyed at the outcome. Cy, who had his ear glued to the radio at the Legion, played for Warren back in the middle nineties.

Interesting and personable was our young caller Sunday afternoon, Michael D'Angelo, son of Mrs. Ellen, D'Angelo, 24 Buchanan St. Mike is leading a busy life at Allegheny College, Meadville, as well as working from 6 p. m. until midnight each day for Station WWGV. This young man, now only 18, has

YM-CITY LEAGUE PRACTICE GAMES WILL START TUESDAY

The YMCA-City Basketball League practice games for the 1951-52 season will get started on the "Y" floor tomorrow night when the Rockets face the Style Shop at 7 p. m. and Texas Lunch tangles with Warren Business College. Regular league competition will open November 26.

On Thursday the Business College vs. Youngsville and Paul's Atlantic vs. Texas Lunch. Next week on Monday the Style Shop meets Youngsville and Business College the Rockets. Tuesday slates Texas Lunch with the Rockets and Youngsville with Paul's Atlantic.

The next league meeting of managers will be at the "Y" on Wednesday, November 21, when rosters must be handed in and entrance fees paid.

PUNXSUTAWNEY FACES DUBOIS HIGH TODAY
Harrisburg, Nov. 12.—P—Only eight major teams could boast all-winning seasons today as most of Pennsylvania's high schools started packing their football togs in mothballs.

The eleven turning in unbeaten and untied records were Bellwood-Antis, Conemaugh township, Erie Cathedral, Prep, Johnstown Catholic, Lewistown, Pittsburgh Westinghouse, Munhall and Uniontown.

DuBois could join the select company today by turning back its traditional rivals from Punxsutawney for the "Beavers" ninth straight win. Kulpmont, Ridley township, Swyersville and West Scranton still have at least one more game before posting perfect seasons.

Schoolboy football is over for Western Pennsylvania except for a few scattered playoffs in the WPIAL classes. Central and Eastern teams still have one or two games remaining before the traditional Thanksgiving Day close.

Fingers Crossed As Top College Teams Face Crucial Games

By ED CONRAGAN
New York, Nov. 12—(AP)—Coaches and athletic directors of the country's top football teams—a cautious lot—were walking around their campuses with fingers crossed today, afraid even to think of the games coming up.

Every time they begin to think of the coming bowl games and perhaps start figuring what's going in the cash box, they shudder and think back to what happened to Southern California.

The big, powerful Trojans were the shoo-ins of the Pacific Coast conference, especially after they bounced undefeated California, the pre-season favorite, several weeks ago. The coast title and the gold and glory of the Rose Bowl were virtually theirs.

But Stanford, completely overlooked before the start of hostilities, crashed the Trojan hopes Saturday with a 27-20 victory.

Now they're saying the Indians can't miss. But can they? They probably can beat Oregon State without much trouble this week, but the following week they go against California, which still is not rated a pushover. Southern Cal has only one more game—a Nov. 24 date with U.C.L.A.

Same thing in the Big Ten. Illinois—another school overlooked in the pre-season dope—boasts a 4-0 mark after trouncing Iowa, 40-13, Saturday. But Michigan and Wisconsin each have 3-1 marks, and all three still have two conference games to play.

Illinois tangles with Ohio State and Northwestern. Michigan meets the same pair while Wisconsin goes against Iowa and Minnesota. If defending champion Michigan wins, the Wolverines won't go to the Rose Bowl, since a Big Ten rule prohibits the same school from playing there two years in a row.

It would seem that Wisconsin has the easiest task. The Badgers nipped Penn, 16-7, but Michigan dropped before Cornell, 20-7, Saturday, in a couple of Big Ten-ivy League games.

Tennessee probably is the only team that can take things moderately easy—with the exception of Georgia Tech, which already has accepted an invitation to the Orange Bowl in Miami. The Volunteers of the Southeastern Conference, had a 60-14 lumberting up exercise at the expense of Washington and Lee and need worry only about Kentucky.

Even if the slow starting Behemoths from the blue grass should beat Tennessee, Gen. Bob Neyland's outfit would get into some bowl—Sugar, Cotton or Orange. Babe Parilli and his Kentucky outfit could do it, too. They trimmed Tulane, 37-0, Saturday.

New Kane Coach In Charge as Hilltop Squad Starts Work

Kane, Nov. 12 — Coach Matt Rausch reported 58 candidates turned out last week for the Kane High school basketball team as a new regime takes over after six years of championship basketball under the tutelage of C. Stuart Edwards, who resigned the coaching post at the end of last season.

Coach Rausch will be aided this year by Rudolph Federici, former Penn State player who was officially elected to the Kane High faculty at last night's Board of Education meeting.

The two coaches found four lettermen from last year's varsity on the bench for physical examinations. Keith Weiser, smooth-working forward; Iankey Larry Bush, who is counted on for the center post this season; shiftier Max MacEwen who should hit his peak this year and Eddie Rudder, big and rangy, who has developed rapidly in football and may carry it over onto the basketball court.

The squad gets some pretty rugged support from last year's Jayvee team, too. Coming up are Dave Baumann, Don Flockert, Al Carlson, Basil Kulka, Bob Berlin, Bruce Rice, Phil Swanson, Bob Tibbitts, Bill McDade, Tom Kibbie, Don Novosel and Johnny Mathys. Losses, of course, are heavy. Such stars as Kenny Carlson, Don Frase, Jim Cronin, Pat Scordo, Dan Sagramoso and Mike Kulka received their sheepskins in June and the task of replacing them won't be easy.

The team will practice every afternoon starting today as the coaches work toward the opening game December 7 with Smethport.

The first cut in the squad is due Friday after the coaches get a chance to see what's what and who's who.

This pickup pinches pennies!

There are two simple reasons why you save money when you buy an International pickup truck.

First, you get lower operating and maintenance cost. You get a pickup truck that is engineered throughout to do more work for less money.

Second, you get longer truck life. Even the smallest International pickup truck has the traditional stamina that has kept Internationals first in heavy-duty truck sales for 19 straight years.

You get these all-truck savings right along with features that no other pickup truck gives you. For example—the comfo-vision cab is “the roomiest, most comfortable cab on the road.” The Silver Diamond engine is an outstanding development of the world's largest exclusive truck engine plant. Super-steering gives you the maneuverability and ease of handling that make driving a pleasure.

But get all the facts for yourself. Come in and learn why International pickup trucks are the best truck value in pickups today.

Baseball Umpire Isn't a Good Insurance Risk in Puerto Rico

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The Brooklyn faithful have been grossly maligned. They are a calm and introverted breed. To see the baseball fan in the raw you must visit Puerto Rico. The Puerto Rican League season begins in late October. The circuit consists of clubs from San Juan, Santurce, Ponce, Mayaguez and Caguas. The championship race ends in February, and there follows a World Series between Puerto Rico, Cuba, Panama and Venezuela.

But the big show is not the play, which is Triple A. It is the addit. He is undoubtedly the most volatile in the game.

“On an evening of a game the traffic jam at the San Juan park is beyond description,” reports Burton Benjamin, the RKO-Pathé producer, just back from the island. “It would make a Yankee Stadium cop ask for assignment to the current bookie squad—just to get away from it all.”

The outfit has its own park, three or four of them new, and generally play to a capacity crowd of 16,000 or more.

“The noise is awesome. A baseball game, even at Ebbets Field, has a sound pattern, sporadic roars of excitement being followed by quiet periods as the drama unfolds.

“In Puerto Rico, the assembled vocal chords are never stilled. Staccato screaming in Spanish is punctuated by such Americanisms as ‘Peech out,’ ‘Get a beet,’ ‘Lay wan down’ and ‘Make, with a slide.’

“In an important game, a player hitting a home run circles twice—once the bases, the second time the stands. The latter tour is purely financial. The enthusiasts shower him with money, and he is not reluctant to accept the tips for several days.

“A losing pitcher has been known to be carried from the field in a basket. An umpire is not considered a good insurance risk.”

Most of the players are Triple A minor leaguers. A major leaguer cannot play winter ball unless he started in the land where he is performing.

In the game Bud Benjamin saw, the Braves’ Luis Marques was in center field for San Juan. Their catcher was Arroyo, a good prospect just purchased by the Indians. Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland club was on hand to see his recruit pitcher, Sad Sam Jones. He threw out the first ball, was given a tremendous ovation. Ray Collins, a clever Cardinal left-handed farm hand, pitched for Santurce and won. Freddie Hofmann, the old Yankee catcher who coached the Browns for years, is the Santurce manager.

Chapter 7

RAY did not answer right away. He waited until they had left the lights of the big house behind. Then instead of answering her question he said, “I think your mother's a honey.”

“Of course she is,” Jan returned. “In her own fashion.” Every man who ever laid eyes on Eve thought she was a honey. “But as I said before, you don't know Eve. The things she's put me through since you went away!”

“What sort of things?” In the dusk, Ray's voice sounded amused. He was driving leisurely, apparently in no hurry.

“First,” Jan said, “there was that awful announcement in the papers.”

“I know,” Ray said. “How did you know?”

“Oh, a friend of mine showed it to me,” he chuckled. “She was kind of upset about it. I guess. Kind of a big surprise.”

“It certainly was.” At the moment Jan did not notice that this friend of Ray's had been a “she.” Besides that, Eve told just everybody. She even sent a wire to my father.”

“He's still your father,” Ray reminded her. He had caught another note of bitterness in her young voice.

“He's never remembered it before,” Jan said. “So he needn't start now.”

“Has he started?”

“He sent me a wire,” Jan would not tell Ray what a long sentimental wire it had been. It had been too silly. “And a check for ten thousand dollars.”

“Whew!” Ray emitted a long whistle. “Well, it looks to me as though your Dad would like a chance to make up to you for forgetting you all these years.”

“I wanted to send it back,” Jan said. Her voice was tight and hurt. “Now what do you think of the world could make up for not having had a father.” The wire said I could use it as a down payment on our first home. Since we'll never have a home, it seems dishonest to keep it.”

Ray gave a grunt at this. How did she know they would never

Chapter Six

AT the termination of ten long days, during which Jan alone knew all that she endured, Ray finally returned from his trip to Washington.

When he phoned, Jan reminded him, after she found he was still alive and all in one piece, that he had to come out to the house for that dinner. Her mother was counting on it.

“And besides,” Jan added, “I have lots to tell you, simply bushels.”

“I'll be there with bells on,” he still sounded cheerful.

She was not prepared, however, for his next question.

“Did you miss me, Jan, say just a teeny bit?”

“Well, I've been awfully busy,” Jan replied. Eve had seen to that. There had been no stopping her.

“I was rather busy myself,” Ray said. His voice had lost its cheerful note. “In fact, I'm rather busy right now.” He sounded almost short. “Did your mother want me for dinner tonight?”

“At seven,” Jan said. She did not see why he suddenly had become so businesslike. She had not phoned him. He had called her up. She had said she was working the conversation and keep him from whatever he was doing. So she added a crisp goodbye and hung up first.

She could not have conceived anything as bad as this dinner party turned out. To begin with, there had been no stopping her. Ray said. His voice had lost its cheerful note. “In fact, I'm rather busy right now.” He sounded almost short. “Did your mother want me for dinner tonight?”

PERFORM DOCKERS' DUTY—A dignified gentleman with a white beard assists an elderly woman in transporting their baggage aboard the liner America, which sailed from New York's strikebound harbor. Striking longshoremen removed their picket line at the pier long enough for the crew to go aboard the vessel which carried some U. S. delegates to the UN Assembly in Paris.

FLYWEIGHT MEETS STAR—On the set in Hollywood where he's making "Hear No Evil," a picture about the fight game, Tony Curtis shakes heads with English flyweight champion Terry Allen, right. The British boxer paid a visit to the studio while pausing on his trip from London to Honolulu where he'll meet Dado Moreno for the championship of the world.

REFUGE FOR WILD ANIMALS

FREEDOM FOR ALL—The 3000 acres around the Northernnaire Hotel at Three Lakes, Wis., is full of wild animals, and guests are not permitted to hunt on the property. Most of the animals come and go as they please and are even fed at the hotel.

SAMPLING A TIDBIT—Carl Marty, owner of the hotel, offers a bit of cheese to a neighboring raccoon. Marty stays up late at night waiting for some of the animals to come to the hotel for food. Note open can of sardines and broken biscuits. When he goes outdoors, Mary is frequently followed by all kinds of his four-legged friends, especially the ones who know he carries bits of cheese in his pockets. Above, Lulu, a deer, gets right into the back seat of her benefactor's car for a handout. The animal hostess at the hotel is Marty's cocker spaniel, Ginger. Lulu, one of the animals who is permitted indoors, is shown here giving Ginger a good-night kiss in the manner of a thoughtful friend who thanks her hostess for a pleasant evening.

A KISS FOR JUDY—Screen star Elizabeth Taylor bends low to kiss Judy Garland and wish her luck during a backstage visit to the Palace Theater in New York where Judy's appearing with great success. Looking on and waiting his turn is actor Montgomery Clift, Miss Taylor's escort.

TIME FOR CHESS—Swedish youngsters play chess during their noonday recess. Throughout the country, school children get an hour and a half for lunch and relaxation. Other popular pastimes are ping pong, billiards and listening to jazz music. Most Swedish schools, such as this one in Stockholm, serve hot meals plus sandwiches and milk free of charge to about 80 per cent of the children. The others bring their lunch from home.

TAKING AIRS—A cotton moire, make-it-yourself dress for daytime or datetime features interesting touches at the full, gathered skirt, the roll-collar neckline and the push-up sleeves. The dress can be worn all through the Autumn and Winter.

BUT IS IT?—Visitors to the Industrial Fair in Berlin, Germany, are visibly impressed with this exhibit; it's a piano made out of glass. Another of its features, this one unseen, however, is the fact that the instrument's sound is reported to be just as good as from a regular wooden piano.

Orthodox Greek Catholic Church Policy Is Explained

In answer to a number of queries received since his arrival in the Youngville-Pittsfield community, the Rev. Stephen Kanyan, of St. Mary's Greek Catholic church on Route 6 between the two towns, explains that his church is "orthodox."

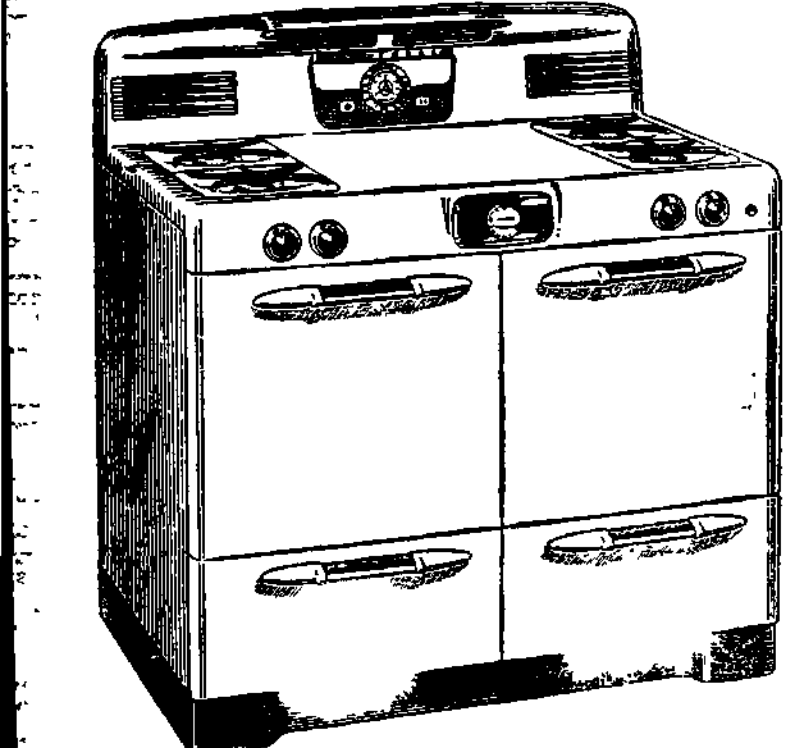

The word Greek Catholic is taken from the Greek word katoichos, meaning universal or general. There is no other Slavonic orthodox church east of St. Mary's within 60 to 75 miles, he states, continuing with the explanation that "slavonic language peoples" are those who came from Galicia and Carpatho in Russia, or Austro-Hungary.

St. Mary's church keeps its holidays according to the Julian calendar which is 13 days later than other religious calendars. It has always been the policy of the Holy Orthodox-Catholic Apostolic Church of the East to serve Divine Liturgy in the language of the countries inhabited by the members and, in accordance with this policy, it is desired eventually to use the English language of this country.

Members of his parish are anxious to thank neighbors and others who have made it possible for them to build a place of worship and extend a cordial invitation to all interested to attend Divine Liturgy at 10:00 a. m. each Sunday. Sermons are delivered in both Slavonic and English.

Creates Protective Warmth for ACHING CHEST COLDS to relieve coughs and sore muscles. Musterole instantly creates a wonderful protective warmth right where applied on chest, throat and back. It not only promptly relieves coughing and inflammation but breaks up painful local congestion.

You wouldn't want to drive a 1935 car, and yet the new Universal gas ranges are as different from your 10 to 15 year old range as new automobiles. Come in and see the new Universals. They are streamlined, improved, automatic, easy to clean, and have Universal's famous sturdiness and cooking ability.

RUSSELL

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Warner entertained at a family dinner in honor of the latter's mother, Mrs. Emma Gregory's 85th birthday. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Ahlgren and family of Warren.

Mrs. Gerry Briggs and her group of the A Number One Club, were entertained by Mrs. George Hedges and her group at a party at the home of Mrs. Hedges. All came in costume and prizes were awarded the winners. Games and contests were enjoyed and refreshments served. The next meeting will be held November 15, with Mrs. Luella Jenkins in Jamestown.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Lindell, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Mattison and Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Briggs motored to Franklin, Sunday, to attend the 25th Ordinance Service for Rev. Harold Knappenberger.

Mrs. Emil Olson entertained the Crystal Birthday Club at her home, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Swanson and family, visited Mr. and Mrs. Perry Swanson at Falconer.

An apple and balloon party will be held at the Russell Skating rink Sunday evening, with prizes.

GARLAND

Norman Taylor and Roy Richards were in Warren on business Friday.

Ted Smith of Allegheny College, spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Smith. His parents took him back Sunday.

Out of a bolt from the blue, winter struck the Brokenstraw Valley with snow, ice and high winds. The pavements were very slippery.

Due to the weather, local small game hunters had little success in the woods.

Norman Taylor took Mr. Hill and daughter to Titusville Saturday evening, where they will join Mrs. Hill's parents in visiting her in a Grove City hospital where she is a surgical patient.

The newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Colburn, have returned from their honeymoon trip and are making their home in Jamestown, where they are employed. They spent the weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Leofsky.

Ralph Pike has gone to work for the Irwin Mfg. Co. His mother, who has been seriously ill in the Corry hospital from a heart attack, is improving and hopes to leave the hospital this week.

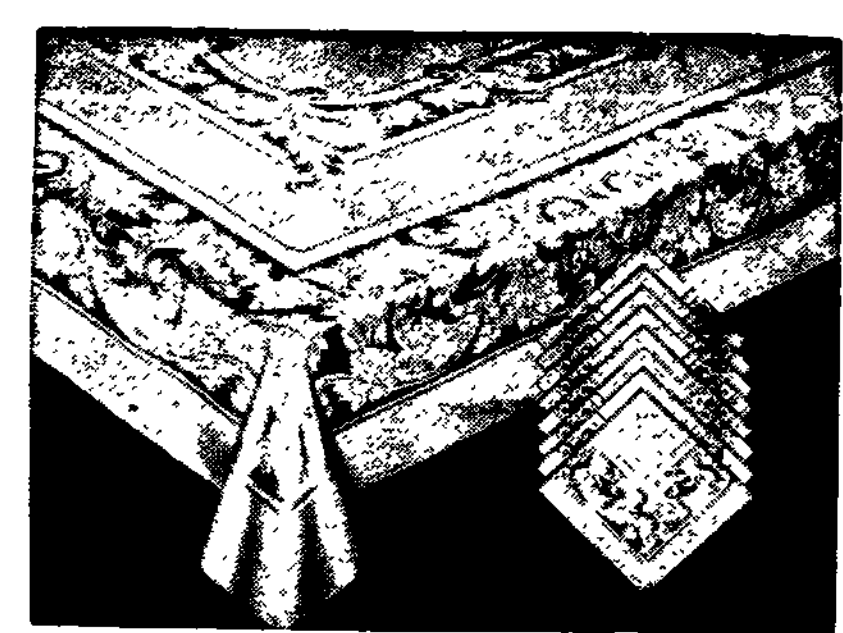

The Smith family was in Warren on business, Saturday.

Eugene Clancy is an appendectomy patient in the Warren hospital.

Residents in this vicinity were faithful to their voting duties on Election Day, as a large majority of voters came to the polls. Charles Briggs, running for county auditor, received 70 votes from Garland friends.

The monthly business meeting for the community center was held Monday evening, preceded by a tureen dinner. Norman Taylor gave his report for October and the Briggs family will have charge in November.

METZGER-WRIGHT'S

THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Illustrated by Walt Scott

Heavy-hearted, John Alden began to deliver Miles Standish's message to Priscilla Mullins. "So I have come to you now, with an offer and proffer of marriage..."

"...made by a good man and true, Miles Standish, the Captain of Plymouth!"

"If the great Captain of Plymouth is so very eager to wed me, why does he not come himself, and take the trouble to woo me? If I am not worth the wooing, I surely am not worth the winning!"

Loyal to his Captain, John Alden sang the praises of Miles Standish to Priscilla. "Achly the maiden smiled, and with eyes overrunning with laughter, said, in a tremulous voice, 'Why don't you speak for yourself, John?'"

John Alden DID speak for himself, and Priscilla accepted him. Then he broke the news to Miles Standish. "Wildly he shouted, and loud: 'John Alden! You have betrayed me!'"

But the fiery Captain cooled off in time, and was a guest at the wedding of John Alden and Priscilla Mullins. He thought sadly, as he watched the bridal procession: "Old and yet ever new, simple and beautiful always. Love immortal and young in the endless succession of lovers."
